

Connecting an ICP spectrometer to its serial port

Overview

From DeviceManager, select "View devices by type", then "Ports (COM & LPT)". Choose the required COM port number from the list and click OK. Select the "Port Settings". Figure 1 shows a high-level overview of how the serial ports are connected for RS-232 and the direction of data transmission for them. The table below provides some specifications regarding the RS-232 implementation on Ocean spectrometers.
