Overview

Distribution boxes must comply with UL 50 (enclosures) and UL 508A (industrial control panels) standards. These standards are rigorous about short-circuit current ratings (SCCR), proper wire sizing, and component compatibility. The Labor Code favors indefinite contracts and requires employers to pay severance if a contract is terminated after three months of employment. Laws include the mandatory provision of daycare, worker protections for harassment and discrimination, restrictions on hourly work, and retirement. The Ecuadorian Standards Institute (INEN), an affiliated institution of the Ministry of Production, Trade, Investment, and Fisheries, sets national standards. INEN is a member of the International Standards Organization (ISO), the Pan-American Technical Standards Commission (COPANT), the Pacific business in Ecuador.
